(54) Title: APPLICATION INTEGRITY VERIFICATION BY SDK

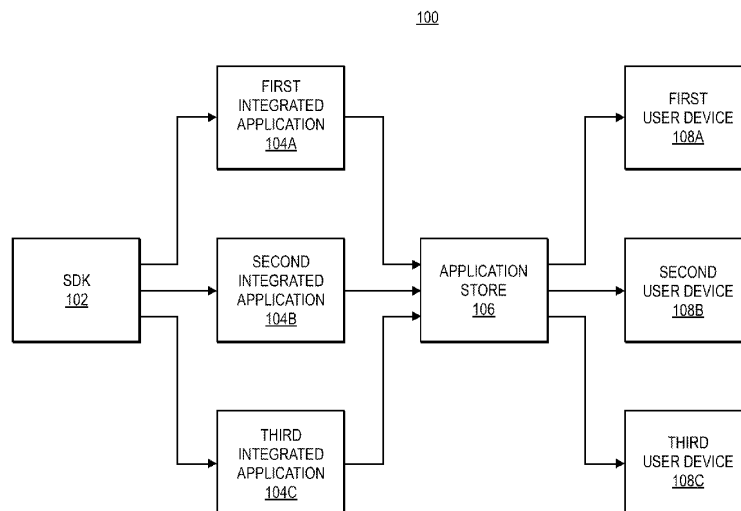

FIG. 1

(57) Abstract: A method is disclosed and includes executing an integrated application comprising an SDK (software development kit) on a user device with a processor. The method includes determining, by the SDK and the processor on the user device, a checksum for the integrated application, validating, by the SDK in the user device, the integrated application using the determined checksum, and responsive to validating the determined checksum, performing, by the integrated application on the user device, an action.
