

An improved method of manufacturing stacking shelves

Abstract

A stacking shelf (25) having a backing piece (29) attached to it by way of more than two fastening holes at its extremities and a suitable adhesive polymer introduced through at least one centre hole (30) on the backing piece (29).

Figure 2