(54) Title: TECHNIQUE FOR PROVIDING ACCESS TO A MEDIA RESOURCE ATTACHED TO A NETWORK-REGISTERED DEVICE

(57) Abstract: A technique for accessing a media resource (114) controllably attachable to a network-registered device (104) via a multimedia-enabled network (102) is proposed. The technique comprises determining a resource capability information indicating a capability of the media resource; transforming the resource capability information into service capability information indicating a capability related to a service accessible at the network-registered device via the network; and providing the service capability information to an access-requesting entity (106).
