

Abstract

[Problem] To provide a supporting bath useful for three-dimensional tissue culture and a method for producing cultured three-dimensional tissue by using the supporting bath. [Solution] Use of a supporting bath for three-dimensional tissue culture, that comprises polymer and water, wherein a thixotropic gel is formed in the bath with the gel being dissolvable in solvent. Also, use of a method for producing the supporting bath.