

METHOD AND SYSTEM OF PROCESSING A DIGITAL IMAGE

ABSTRACT

A method and system of processing a digital image. The method comprising the steps of: obtaining an unprocessed digital image and personalization data; uploading the unprocessed digital image and the personalization data onto a cloud computing server; combining the unprocessed digital image with the personalization data to create a processed digital image; and printing the processed digital image based on a unique identifier.

Figure 2