

BABY BOTTLE NIPPLE AND METHOD OF FORMING AN OPENING THEREIN

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of forming a nipple for a baby bottle, comprises: forming a lower conical wall section; forming a higher conical wall section molded above the lower conical wall section; preventing deformation of the higher conical wall section; and cutting an opening through the higher conical wall section into an interior section of the nipple.

Fig. 1