- (54) Title: COMPUTER IMPLEMENTED METHOD OF EXTRACTING DATA FROM SURVEYS

(57) Abstract: A computer-implemented method of extracting data, such as clinical patient information from surveys such as medical surveys is disclosed herein. The method comprises obtaining completed surveys, each completed survey comprising answers to preconfigured questions, identifying portions of the survey corresponding to answers, applying a machine learning model to the portions identified as answers to predict answers, and accumulating a response to the survey based on the predicted answers.
