Claims

1. A method of treatment of infertility comprising a step of administering a daily dose of, or a daily dose equivalent to, 6 to 8 μg recombinant FSH to a patient (e.g. a female patient) identified as having AMH ≥ 15pmol/L (for example AMH ≥ 16 pmol/L, for example AMH ≥ 19 pmol/L, for example AMH ≥ 26 pmol/L, for example AMH ≥ 28 pmol/L, for example AMH ≥ 40 pmol/L) and identified as having bodyweight < 60 kg (e.g. bodyweight < 55 kg, for example < 52kg, for example < 50 kg, for example <45 kg).