

Process for the Production of Thermosetting Moulding Materials

Summary

During the process according to the invention, moulding material is produced on the basis of thermosetting binders, that is, the binders are mixed in melted form with the fillings and additives. A hardening reaction is achieved by increasing the temperature of the mixture during the mixing process above the starting temperature of the hardening reaction. After having reached the wanted hardening degree the temperature is dropped abruptly.

TRANSLATED BY:
WORLDWIDE TRANSLATION SERVICES

.....
Anna Tupaz
Business Relations Manager
REG. NO. 344548/00K

13 NOV 1997