

ABSTRACT

5 METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR MAKING PAYMENT FOR A SERVICE AT A SERVICE STATION

There is provided a method and system for making payment for a service at a service station which allow users to make payment even when their mobile
10 devices lose data connectivity and when there is a high turnover of users at the service station. In addition, the method and system can lead to enhanced revenues at the service stations as well as improved user experiences when making payments at service stations.

15 Figure 2