

ABSTRACT

Provided video posting method, apparatus, electronic device, and storage medium. The method includes after a trigger instruction performed on a video association button for an original video is received, displaying video capturing interface; after associated video captured in the video capturing interface, displaying video editing interface, the associated video is a video associated with the original video; after the associated video edited in the video editing interface, displaying video posting interface; and after posting button in the video posting interface is triggered, posting target video, the posting button is used for posting the associated video as the target video, first switch button for the original video is displayed on target video playback detail page of the target video, and the first switch button is used for switching to display an original video playback detail page of the original video after view instruction is performed on the first switch button.