(54) Title: ENGINEERED PHAGE-BASED THERAPEUTIC COMPOSITIONS AND USES THEREOF

FIG. 11A

(57) Abstract: Recombinant bacteriophages comprising a targeting moiety to a pathogen or pathological cell and also comprising a bioactive moiety effective against the pathogen or pathological cell are described that are useful for treating diseases such as infections and cancer. Such recombinant bacteriophages have a binding moiety to a pathogen or pathogenic cell expressed on a minor capsid protein, and a bioactive agent that is active against the pathogen or pathogenic cell bound to a major capsid protein.
