(54) Title: METHODS AND SYSTEMS FOR FACILITATING ASYNCHRONOUS COMMUNICATION

(57) Abstract: Embodiments generally relate to a method of registering a schema to a schema repository. The method comprises receiving a pull request from the schema repository, the pull request being associated with a submitted schema; retrieving linting rules from the schema repository; performing a linting process on the submitted schema based on the retrieved linting rules; performing a compatibility check on the submitted schema by comparing the submitted schema with at least one existing schema stored in the schema repository; and causing the submitted schema to be written to the schema repository.
