

Abstract

A heteroaryl compound, a preparation method therefor, and a use thereof in medicine. Specifically, provided are a heteroaryl compound represented by general formula (I), a preparation method therefor, a pharmaceutical composition containing the compound, and a use thereof as a therapeutic agent, especially a use thereof as a PRMT5 inhibitor and a use thereof in treating and/or preventing cancer.

