

Process for preparing poly- and oligothiophenes on the industrial scale

5

A B S T R A C T

The present invention is based on a process for industrial scale synthesis of poly- and oligothiophenes, which works in concentrated solution. In this process, a solution which comprises 10 an organometallic thiophene reagent is added to a second solution which comprises a catalyst.