

Abstract

The invention relates to sulfamoyl sulfonate prodrugs of general formula I, a process for their production, pharmaceutical compositions that contain these compounds, and their use for the production of orally available pharmaceutical agents.

(I),

The compounds according to the invention bind to carbonic anhydrases and inhibit these enzymes.