STATEMENT UNDER ARTICLE 19

Independent claims 1, 10, and 18 have been amended to specify subject matter relating to the electrical pulsing system, particularly a generator which generates a sequence of electrical pulses during a predetermined time, such that a predetermined number of pulses are issued before the polarity of the electrodes is reversed. It is respectfully asserted that these amended independent claims specify subject matter which is not taught or suggested by the prior art of record.

Independent claim 15 has been amended to specify with greater precision the layers of adhesive material, one on each side of the device, and a release liner which can be removed easily so the device can be coupled to the electrode on one side thereof, and the skin of the wearer on the other. This combination of elements is not present in the prior art of record.

In view of the foregoing, it is believed that the present international application specifies subject matter which is allowable over the prior art of record.
