

FRIEDNLY MARKER PEN HOLDER

(FOR GENERAL USE)

ABSTRACT

The invention, Friendly marker Pen Holder (FMPH), is an apparatus with novel design that improves the usage of marker pens in areas of convenience, ink consistency, holding arrangement, display and others.

Marker pen referred here means pen with different color ink for writing things on a writing board. These pens are normally disposable with fixed amount of ink, or are made for refilling.

This invention is applicable to office board room, class room, seminar room, workshop instruction room and wherever marker pens are used to illustrate subject/work details or idea on a writing board normally hung on the wall. Fundamentally, the apparatus is innovative in that it allows the marker pen to be arranged and stowed in a fashion that significantly improves operational and functional efficiency apart from enhanced aesthetic value in the manner the apparatus is holding each pen. When arranged in a group of different colors, the operational efficiency is further realized.

Pictures and sketches that support explanations and typically illustrate the novelty of the invention are listed below:-
