(54) Title: SIDE IMPACT PROTECTION ON CAR SEAT

(57) Abstract: A child seat for installation on a vehicle seat includes a seat back and a headrest connectable to the seat back. The headrest has an inner surface that defines a head receiving region of the headrest. The inner surface has a headrest support surface positioned at a back of the head receiving region and a side impact protection portion positioned between the headrest support surface and a front of the head receiving region. A recess is arranged between the side impact protection portion and the front of the head receiving region. At least one of the side impact protection portion and the inner surface at least partially defines the recess.
