

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to an influenza vaccine composition for spray-administration to nasal mucosa, which comprises 5 an inactivated whole influenza virion and a gel base material comprising carboxy vinyl polymer, which is characterized by not comprising an adjuvant.