FUNCTIONALIZED CARBON NANOSTRUCTURES WHICH ARE SOLUBLE IN HYDROCARBONS AND METHOD FOR PREPARATION

ABSTRACT

Carbon nanomaterials functionalized on their surface with ester or amide functionality are made using a technique involving multiple space apart in time or dropwise additions of reactants to the carbon nanomaterials, and are soluble in hydrocarbon liquids.