(54) Title: PRINTING APPARATUS, PRINTING METHOD, AND PROGRAM

(57) Abstract: This printing apparatus comprises a support tray provided with a rotatable base, and an optical disk as a printing object is mounted on the rotatable base. A control section of the printing apparatus selectively operates rotation drive means for driving the rotatable base to be rotated and print means for printing predetermined data on a surface of the optical disk, thereby executing printing to a plurality of portions of the optical disk.
