

ABSTRACT

Provided is a solid drug accommodation body in which tablets T of water-soluble solid drugs are stacked in an accommodation space 13 of a storage container 10 having an accommodation space 13 capable of accommodating a plurality of water-soluble solid drugs, an inlet for allowing water to flow into the accommodation space 13, and an outlet for allowing water to flow out of the accommodation space 13, wherein water-insoluble films F are interposed between the layers of the tablets T.

(Fig.3)