ABSTRACT

Denaturants are added to a transdermal therapeutic system to prevent an improper, i.e. oral, application.