(54) Title: FUNCTIONALITY OF A DISPENSING MACHINE THAT IS IN COMMUNICATION WITH A WIRELESS NETWORK

(57) Abstract: Systems and methods of the present disclosure relate to functionality of a dispensing machine (e.g., a vending apparatus) that is in communication with a wireless network. A system includes the wireless network, a messaging server in communication with the wireless network, a host application server in communication with the wireless network, a client application in communication with the wireless network, and a dispensing machine in communication with the wireless network. The dispensing machine is configured to transmit logs to the wireless network. The dispensing machine is also configured to receive updates from the host application server.
