

KEYLESS ENTRY FOR VEHICLE SHARING SYSTEMABSTRACT

In a vehicle sharing system, each vehicle includes a microcontroller that controls access to the vehicle. The microcontroller has random access memory and read only memory which store identification information. The identification code for staff members is stored in read only memory. The identification codes for users are stored in random access memory.

Figure 5B

162162

G00002