

ABSTRACT

Increased sidewall coverage in a wetting layer for a substrate via or trench is achieved in an inductively coupled plasma chamber by sputtering relatively pure aluminum.