

Abstract

A state data acquisition module (101) of a monitoring system (1) is configured to acquire state data relating to a 5 change in a state of a device that is a monitoring target in a service. The monitoring system (1) is configured to execute processing relating to an anomaly in the service based on the state data.