

ABSTRACT

COOKING TOP OF A COOKSTOVE

A cooking top of a cookstove includes a top surface (26), and a utensil receiving member (20) detachably disposed thereon between two burner bases (27). The utensil receiving member (20) includes a base portion (21) with opposite lower and upper walls (211,210), and an annular surrounding wall (22) extending uprightly from the upper wall (210) and having an inner peripheral portion (221) to confine an accommodating space (28) for receiving utensils. The upper wall (210) is formed with a slope surface inclined gradually and downwardly with an angle relative to the lower wall (211) so as to confine with the rear end (2212) a collecting groove (29) for collecting liquid dripping from the utensils. A retaining member (25) is disposed between the lower wall (211) and the top surface (26) so as to restrict the utensil receiving member (20) from moving relative to the top surface (26).

Fig. 2 is suggested for publication.