ABSTRACT

A hook assembly system for attaching an accessory to a portion of a furniture item is provided. The hook assembly system comprises a mounting frame attachable to the portion of the furniture item or forming part of the furniture item, the mounting frame comprises a pair of mounting bars, each of the pair of mounting bars comprising a first mounting bar and a second mounting bar; an accessory configured to be attached to the mounting frame; and a hook assembly, wherein the hook assembly comprises: at least one frame bracket, the at least one frame bracket includes a base portion and a pair of hooks extending from the base portion, the pair of hooks configured to be attached to the mounting frame, the base portion attachable to the accessory; wherein the pair of mounting bars is spaced apart with a distance in a range of 190 millimeters to 200 millimeters, and wherein the distance is calculated from a first surface of the first mounting bar, to a corresponding first surface of the second mounting bar.

Fig. 31A