ABSTRACT

COMPOSITIONS AND METHODS FOR TREATING NEGATIVE SYMPTOMS IN NON-SCHIZOPHRENIC PATIENTS

The present disclosure describes compositions and methods for treating at least one negative symptom in a human subject who does not have a clinical diagnosis of schizophrenia. The compositions and methods employ a therapeutically effective amount of a compound of formula (I), or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt, hydrate, solvate or polymorph thereof

(I).

FIGURE 1