ABSTRACT

METHODS OF TREATING ARTHRITIS

Disclosed herein are methods of treating arthritis, comprising administering a sustained release composition comprising liposomes comprising one or more phospholipids, cholesterol, and a therapeutic agent. The sustained release composition can be administered intraarticularly.

FIGURE 10