

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A damper is a laminate of a constraint layer and a viscoelastic layer. The constraint layer is a plastic film of which at least one surface has been subjected to an antistatic
5 treatment.