

ABSTRACT

A compound for treating diseases related to cerebral ischemic injury. The structure of the compound is as represented by formula (II) below. The disclosed compound exhibits higher bioavailability and higher distribution concentrations in rat plasma and brain tissues, and shows a good efficacy in the treatment of ischemic brain injury.

