

MULTIMARKER RISK STRATIFICATION

ABSTRACT

Measurement of circulating ST2 and natriuretic peptide (e.g., NT-proBNP)
5 concentrations is useful for the prognostic evaluation of subjects, in particular for the prediction of adverse clinical outcomes, e.g., mortality, transplantation, and heart failure.

[Fig. 27]