

Abstract of the Disclosure

A platform door system (1) comprises a barrier (10) which includes barrier elements (12), which can be aligned along a track (3) and/or a platform (4), the barrier elements (12) being able to be so displaced that same may be at least partly made flush with each other so that freely selectable, predetermined openings (5) are created along the track (3) and/or along the platform (4).