LADDER LIFT SYSTEMS

Abstract

Embodiments of the invention relate to ladder lift systems for load transfer between two bodies which are disposed across a body of water. The ladder lift systems are provided with a reinforcement system to allow the ladder operate at low tilt angles and to transfer heavy loads without deflection in the ladder.

(Figure 1)