

Process for the Production of Graphene Nanoribbons

ABSTRACT

The invention refers to a process for the production of graphene nanoribbons in the presence of an anisotropic metal surface which induces a spatial orientation of the nanoribbons.

(Fig. 1)