ABSTRACT

SMALL PEPTIDES HAVING POTENT ANTI-ANGIOGENIC ACTIVITY

The present invention provides peptides having potent anti-angiogenic activity. The peptides can be administered as pharmaceutical compositions for prevention or treatment of undesired angiogenesis, for instance for prevention of tumor metastasis or inhibition of primary tumor growth.

(Fig. 1 is to be published).