

(57) Abstract: An anti-eclipse circuit of an image pixel includes a pixel coupled to a pixel output line and a circuit for receiving and storing a pixel reset voltage from the pixel on the pixel output line and for using the stored pixel reset voltage as a parameter to control a reset voltage level on the output line in a manner which maintains the pixel reset voltage on the pixel output line above a predetermined minimum voltage.