47. A method for the treatment or prophylaxis ocular conditions, which method comprises administering an effective amount of a compound according to any one of claims 1 to 40.

48. A compound according to any one of claims 1 to 40, when manufactured according to a process of claim 41.

49. The invention as hereinbefore described.