

ABSTRACT

ION GENERATING APPARATUS

Disclosed is an ion generating apparatus including a housing that is configured to be capable of specifically setting the positional relationship between the ion generating apparatus and an object from which adhering odors are to be removed. The ion generating apparatus is capable of directionally emitting ions toward the object.

Figure 6