

METHOD OF PRODUCING FIBER HAVING FUNCTIONAL MINERAL POWDER AND FIBER PRODUCED THEREFROM

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of producing fiber having functional mineral powders comprises the steps of a first pulverizing functional mineral which crystal form of is pinacoid, a second closely pulverizing the first pulverized functional mineral powders to be less than 1/3 granularity of desired fineness, mixing and synthesizing 0.1-10 weight% of the second pulverized functional mineral powders and 90-99.9 weight% of a chemical resin, and spinning the mixture of functional mineral powders and the chemical resin.

This Sheet Has Been Replaced

