(54) Title: ABRASIVE BRUSH AND FILAMENTS
(57) Abstract The present invention relates to an abrasive brush having a plurality of bristles unitarily moulded with a base, and more particularly to an abrasive brush made by injection moulding a mixture of polymer and abrasive particles. The brush can include organic or inorganic abrasive particles. The present invention also relates to abrasive filaments comprising a thermoplastic matrix having plastic abrasive particles dispersed therein. The brush can be constructed as a driven brush body.
