

DATA PROCESSING

ABSTRACT

Embodiments of this specification provide a data processing method, apparatus, device, and system. The method includes: determining a receipt obtaining manner corresponding to a payment voucher, where the payment voucher is generated after payment processing of a target transaction is performed based on a reimbursement code; obtaining, in the receipt obtaining manner, an electronic receipt that matches the payment voucher; and returning the electronic receipt and the payment voucher to an application platform on which an institution to which the reimbursement code belongs is settled, to process the electronic receipt and the payment voucher on the application platform.
