(54) Title: FUSION POLYPEPTIDES FOR MANUFACTURING OF CYCLIC PEPTIDES

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to fusion polypeptides for manufacturing of cyclic peptides, nucleic acid molecules encoding such fusion polypeptides and genetically modified cells comprising such nucleic acid molecules. Additionally, the present invention relates to a method for preparing a cyclic target peptide and target peptide mixtures. Further aspects of the present invention become apparent when studying the attached patent claims and the specification, including examples.
